Agenda: Presentation by Roly ZL1BQD on DX expeditions in the South Pacific

From the President:

- It is a busy week for Edmonds-Woodway Amateur Radio Club. Last night we had a presentation by Dave WA7RSO on the Arduino microprocessor.
- Tonight we have a presentation from New Zealand by Roly ZL1BQD on DX expeditions in the South Pacific.
- Videos of both presentations will be available soon. See the email reflector for details.
- Daily 10 meter gatherings continue at Noon local time at 28.350 MHz

From the Treasurer:

- The club continues to support the Mountlake Terrace Community Senior Center.

From the Secretary:

- No news

From Barry K7BWH:

- The Pacific Northwest VHF Society is planning an actual, in person get together in Ely, Nevada over the weekend of May 22, 23. See their website for more details.

Presentation by Roly ZL1BQD: The South Pacific looks like a wonderful place to travel for radio expeditions. While Roly took pains to explain that it is not all smooth sailing, it still looks like a great place for an adventure. See Roly's QRZ page for a link to a YouTube video on his adventures.
